ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ ERRATUM

Unfortunately a mistake appeared in issue no. 3 of this volume in the article by Keith Werb, 'An Englishsmens story' (18-3, page 68 – 72). The meaning of one sentence was quit significantly changed because part of it was deleted. Fortunately the author pointed out this mistake to use and we are more then happy to correct it here. It concerns the last sentence of the first paragraph in the second column op page 71. This sentence should read:

My delight at catching my first Leopard snake on that trip quickly turned to dismay when I realised it was yet another male, but all of that was forgotten a couple of days later when I caught my first female on a dry-stone wall!
